general fund, $5,726.83; Postal Record fund, $5,373.18. The report was received and a vote of thanks tendered the secretary for his efficient work, both as secretary of the association and editor of the Postal Record.

It was agreed on motion that no resolution or other matters of committee would be received after the Thursday recess.

Delegate Schoch, of Chicago, asked how it was that the union label did not appear on the printed rules that were then being distributed, after it had been ordered at the morning session that all printing of the association should bear the union label. Secretary Cantwell explained that it was an oversight on his part. He had an oversight on his part. He had an oversight on his part. He had an oversight on his part.

An effort was made to exclude from the official report of the proceedings the discussion on motions that are not adopted, but it was lost by an overwhelming vote.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered the speakers who addressed the morning session.

It was decided to send a greeting to the post office clerks' convention now in session in Memphis, Tenn. Adjournment was made till 9 o'clock this morning.

Houts' players, and Hattin's composition, "The Letter," was rendered by the Glee club.

Then the band played "Soldiers in the Park," from "The Runaway Girl." "The American Eagle," by Boehme, was played, also, and a closing number, "The Star Spangled Banner" was given, and the Glee club sang the piece, the audience joining in the chorus. Prof. Watkins led the assembly.

The audience was the largest that has ever assembled in the city at a band concert, and clearly demonstrated the popularity of such events. The band and Glee club will accompany the excursionists to Wilkes-Barre and Mountain Park today.

On the platform with the band were Hon. and Mrs. William Connell, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Connell and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Connell. At the conclusion of the programme the Glee club, as a graceful compliment to Mrs. Connell, who is specially attached to several Welsh songs, sang a rendition of "March of the Men of Harlech," followed by the sweet, dreamy melody of "Crug y Bar," a Welsh hymn, and the beautiful "Myfanwy," composed by Professor Daniel Protheroe.

Tomorrow night the Carriers' band and the Glee club, led by Mr. J. T. Watkins, will serenade Mr. Connell and Colonel Ripple at their homes.

Convention Notes.

SMITH ROBINSON JONES is the uncommonly congenial and friendly common cognomen which attach to the delegate from Watertown branch, No. 302. He is an old-time printer and took great interest in the display of hundred and twelve made in the labor day parade.

Charles D. Duffy, president of the Chicago branch and leader of the big delegation from the Windy City, is the guest of Select Councilman Thomas O'Boyle, of the Eighteenth ward.

J. G. McCormack, of Chicago, possesses an excellent tenor voice and is frequently heard entertaining groups with his delightful warbling.

The Baltimore delegation is distributing novel invitations "to Baltimore in 1900." They are in the shape of oyster shells suspended from an orange and black ribbon and made by one of the Baltimore carriers, Lemuel Rainey. He made a barrelful of them in his leisure hours during the last three months.

Detroit's delegates are distributing attractive red badges reading, "Detroit 1900." Everyone is wearing them, or at least everyone within reach has been given one. A neatly illustrated pamphlet setting forth the enticements of Detroit is also being distributed. The official programme for today is: "Morning session of convention, 1.30 p. m., excursion to Mountain Park and Wilkes-Barre as guests of Branch No. 115, Wilkes-Barre."

When one thinks of the amount of work that attaches to a successful fight for the convention, the achievement of Scranton's three delegates to Toledo, John H. Phillips, Michael O'Malley and Charles Fildiam, is to be marvelled at. Chesteron, S. C., is working quietly but earnestly for the convention, and relying upon the judgment of the delegates to send the convention south, this time, are quite confident of winning out.

Sheriff Robinson, treasurer of the general committee, is with the carriers all the time and takes a hand in the entertaining. He is a prime favorite with the visitors.

J. H. Sherman is the colored delegate from Jacksonville, Fla., whose banner borne aloft on a big sign came attracted so much attention in the parade. Mr. Sherman's hobby is "equalization," and his banner was expressive of this allegorically. It represents on one side a letter carrier in a big city making a six-block trip four times a day for $1,000 a year and on the other side a postman in a city of less than 75,000 population making a fifty-block trip three times a day for $50.

A button bearing a portrait of National Secretary Cantwell and labeled "Reciprocity Favorite" is much in demand. The secretary can't well help being a favorite with every one. He knows everything about the affairs of the convention and seems to take delight in being a walking bureau of information. It's impossible to bore him. Mr. Sherman, manager of the New York Letter Carriers' band, is proud, and deservedly so, of the big hit his boys are making with the delegates and Scrantonians. He says the band never accepts an invitation to play without the acceptance would mean a day's wages taken from a professional musician. "We are a strictly amateur organization in that regard," said Mr. Greer. "During our entire five years' existence we never played a professional engagement. Once in while we are assured that if we don't play free some other band will."

Many of the visiting mailcarriers and postmasters visited the Scranton post-office yesterday and were shown through the building. The general belief was that the force of carriers and clerks is exceedingly small for the amount of business which passes through the office. The accumulation of letters and papers from Saturday, Sunday and Monday's mails kept the carriers on the jump yesterday, and the additional work taxed their energies to the fullest capacity.

The Boston delegation had the pleasure of a call from Alderman Presho, of Boston, on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Carter, of that city, yesterday. Over the Delaware and Hudson railroad at 10 p. m., and were escorted to the Hotel Jermyn, and later attended the banquet given at the hotel by Scranton's postmaster. The alderman addressed the convention at noon yesterday and was listened to with marked attention. The delegation's guests left Scranton at 2.15 p. m. yesterday for Philadelphia.

R. J. Mackey and J. J. Skelly, two of the Pittsburg delegates, stopped a runaway horse at Lake Ariel yesterday afternoon at no little risk to themselves. A fatigued and his two daughters were driving along the road at the end of the lake near the boat house when one of the shafts broke and the horse becoming frightened dashed forward at its highest speed. The driver jumped leaving the two young women clinging to the sides of the buggy. Above the driver the horse began to rear very much excited over the possibility of injury to the young women, carriers Mackey and Skelly went gallantly to the rescue and stopped the frightened horse.

Secretary Cantwell has arrangements made whereby the delegates will be furnished with a verbatim copy of the days proceedings upon their arrival at the convention on the succeeding morning. Two stenographers and an expert typewriter are engaged in doing the recording. While one stenographer is taking notes the other is dictating into the typewriter. The notes are then hurried to the Tribune office and after being set up on the linotype machines is struck off on one of the fast job presses.

The Ohio delegation will meet in one of the college class rooms after Thursday's session. Chattanooga is also in the field for the 1900 convention. T. T. Parker, the delegate from that city, arrived yesterday afternoon and at once entered upon a vigorous campaign. Before midnight there wasn't a delegate in town unacquainted with the fact that Chattanooga is in the field for the 1900 convention. He is in the field for the 1900 convention. He is in the field for the 1900 convention.

Postmaster Cornelius Van Cott intended to remain for three days but was taken ill Monday evening and forced to return home. The New York boys regret very much that he could not remain with them, but they enjoy the hospitality of the Scrantonians. Attorney Will R. Lewis, chairman of the entertainment committee, has not spent an hour at his office since Friday.

One of the most popular delegates attending the convention is J. Alton, of Chicago. Mr. Alton has attended every convention since the organization of the letter carriers and is enthusiastic in his praise of the reception accorded the delegates here. Letter Carrier John R. Thomas has a card which is in much demand. On the upper left-hand corner is the following: "Welcome to the 'Electric City' With its wealth of Mill and Mine May your stay with us be pleasant During eighteen ninety-nine we did not do any work for the 'Bundy' Or the 'Nikes' while you're here But enjoy yourself immensely Ere to 'Home Sweet Home' you steer."

EXCURSION TO BINGHAMTON.

Large Number of Scrantonians Will Go to Parlor City.

Much interest is evinced in the Home for the Friendless excursion, that will go to Binghamton on Sept. 14. Arrangements have been perfected to such a degree that there is a certainty of more patrons than ever before.

The chief attraction this year is the Casino, which has been beautified and improved and special features are being prepared for the Scranton visitors, among which will be a "vaudeville" entertainment.

Bauer's band will accompany the excursionists and it is expected that it will be the most enjoyable outing in the history of the Home. Tickets may be had for $1; children's, 75 cents, and are for sale by all managers.

ANNIVERSARY OF HOUSEHOLD OF RUTH WAS CELEBRATED LAST NIGHT IN MUSIC HALL.

Entertainment Was Presided Over by Mrs. Sadie J. Morton, President of the Local Household, Who Also Delivered the Address of Welcome. Refreshments Were Served After the Entertainment and There Was a Season of Dancing—Many Visitors from Wilkes-Barre.

In Music hall the fifth anniversary of the organization of the M. T. Jones Household of Ruth was celebrated. This organization is an auxiliary to the colored Order of Odd Fellows. It was the first celebration of the kind and was very successful. The entertainment with which the celebration opened was presided over by Mrs. Sadie J. Morton, president of the local household.

The entertainment opened with music by the Burkehouse orchestra, which played "The Star Spangled Banner." Miss Florence Scott read a very thoughtful paper on "The Progress of Our Order" and Miss Howard gave a selection on the piano. Miss Ella Rex sang "Stolen Glances" in a very acceptable manner, and Edward Nelson sang "Asleep in the Deep" in a way that provoked hearty applause. His little daughter, Miss Mable Nelson, sang "The Song that Reached My Heart." The entertainment concluded with the following address of welcome, which was delivered by Mrs. Morton:

ADDRESS OF WELCOME. Officers and Members of the Wilkes-Barre Household, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, Ladies and Gentlemen:

In behalf of the Scranton Household I extend to you a welcome befitting the occasion that witnesses the fifth anniversary of our order. We welcome you one and all to our city, our homes and our hearts, and hope you have come for the one purpose, and that we are common good. Five years ago we so firmly planted our roots in the Rock of Common Good, Happiness and Prosperity, that tonight we are the M. T. Jones Household, No. 52, of the city of Scranton, with a static grand master and lodge Pennsylvania, No. 1.

We are a part of the order who, knowing that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world, and after having graciously recognized and acknowledged such to be the fact, admitted us to a membership which is entwined with the bonds and blessed with the innumerable blessing of Friendship, Love and Truth. So, tonight, dear sisters, we are anchored along side of this Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, celebrating our voyage of five years.

Your presence here tonight again demonstrates the fact that the best people in all the land honor and respect the order of which we are a part, and regards its achievements with unfounded admiration. Five years ago we organized with a heavy shroud of mourning and a grasp of love; since that time many have crossed the mystic river. Yet we are spared by a kind Providence to celebrate our fifth anniversary with a joyous and happy number who was with us on that auspicious occasion has crossed over and we believe that tonight she is sitting in the grand household above, where the great and noble founder of our order around the eternal altar of peace, happiness and prosperity.

EXTEND ITS INFLUENCE. Then let us all on. Let it be our purpose to exert our influence to promote the best interests of this city, but tonight this is our reception and we are monarchs of all we survey and our rights there are none to dispute, and the Wilkes-Barre Household of Ruth and the citizens and friends have come to honor us. In many years that have intervened many organizations have sprung up for the benefit of our people, but we know of no other that has done a greater work for our race than the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows. Thank God their banner waves with verbatim glory south, where but a few years ago the mother wept for her children and refused to be comforted because they were not. God bless the Old Fellows! May they ever remain tender, loving and true to us, doing all the good they can, in all the ways they can and to all the people they can. I could entertain you long and with a story of our order, but why should I?

The history of this order is emblazoned on the heart and woven in the minds of the Afro-American of this part of the race. Indeed, so closely connected is the one to the other, that no one can positively say where the one begins or the other ceases.

And now, if it is admissible that I deviate so far, let me say a few words of consolation in behalf of our people, as a race we are a progressive people. I shall not attempt to discuss under what political banner you shall enroll as I am not a politician, and don't remember ever having cast a vote.

PART OF COMMONWEALTH.

But simply want to remind you of the fact that you are a legitimate part of the commonwealth and should be given the chance to participate in the government of this country as well as in the right to San Juan Hill and will Shafter at Santiago. We do not ask to rule the land but we do ask to assist in the government of this country. We do not ask to wear the king's crown, but we do, and shall continue to contend for that part of the kingdom which we have inherited.

There is something in every Afro-American that makes him love his country, and it is greatly to be regretted that the government will not appreciate it. But, in spite of all this opposition, God grant that the Household of Ruth and the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows in all the land may flourish like the palm tree and grow like the Cedar of Lebanon until the whole universe shall have been shaken by its power and all nations shelter under its branches.

Then, in the name of our Blessed Master and the shades of our departed grand master and members, let us go forward in this good work so that the generations to come will bless our memory. And now again I bid you a welcome, thrice welcome to all.

A large number of the members of the Wilkes-Barre Household and of the colored Order of Odd Fellows of that city were in attendance. The local Household has a membership of thirty-five.

After the entertainment refreshments were served and there was also a season of dancing.

late war but that he was discharged. When asked for his discharge papers he became confused, leading the alderman to believe that he was a deserter. This proved to be true as he confessed to Deputy Constable Brandt, who took him to the county jail yesterday that he had deserted this summer. Alderman Millar yesterday sent a letter to the commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard informing him of the facts. It is very probable that he will be sent after and as the law is generally understood, he cannot be held by the county officials if the crime is less than a felony.

JAMES SHIELDS SHOT.

Companion Named Byron Watkins Discharged a Revolver and Contents Entered Boy's Breast.

James Shields, aged 16 years, of 1615 Price street, West Scranton, was accidentally shot by a companion named Byron Watkins, of North Bromley avenue, at 11.30 o'clock last night and now lies in the Lackawanna hospital. The extent of his injuries could not be determined at a late hour by the physicians.

Young Shields, together with Byron Watkins, Thomas Watkins and Herman Traeger, all about 14 years of age, were returning home from the theater and had reached a point opposite the Hook and Ladder house on West Lackawanna avenue, when Thomas Watkins pulled a 22-calibre Young American revolver from his pocket and gave it to Byron Watkins to keep for him.

The latter boy hesitated about taking the weapon and, not knowing it was loaded, pulled the trigger. The contents entered Shields' right breast and he fell to the sidewalk. Blood from the wound flowed freely and the Lackawanna ambulance was called.

When the physicians arrived the boy was in a semi-conscious condition from loss of blood and was quickly removed to the hospital. An examination failed to locate the ball and up to a late hour the extent of his injuries could not be ascertained.

The boys are members of a gang known as the "Yellow Kids of Hennessy Alley," and Byron Watkins, the boy who did the shooting, has been arrested before. He is now at police headquarters, where he will be held to await the result of Shields' injuries.
